

Footprints on the Moon

it was like the day when Neil landed when you walked across the net to me you were a character from a book

the words appeared upon the screen leaving footprints on the moon you left footprints on the moon everyday was pleasant dreams your smile was in everything you asked me who I am you confused me with someone else your words were not for me your words were not for me

when you walked across the net to me

lost in the flaming sands epic fail epic fail a waterless sea
